

A map of the Hawaiian Islands. The island of Hawaii is shown in the bottom right. To its northwest is the main group of islands, including Maui, Lanai, and Oahu. Oahu is shaded in gray. Further northwest is Molokai, and then Maui. To the north of Maui is the island of Kauai, which has a small black dot on its western coast. Further north are the islands of Niihau and Kauai. The map shows the relative positions of these islands in the Pacific Ocean.
